BAKERS
ASSOCIATION

PROFESSIONALS GROUPS

An exclusive benefit of Membership, ABA's Professionals Groups bring together the collective knowledge and experience of our Members' issues experts to explore, develop, and align the baking industry's priorities.

BENEFITS OF JOINING AN ABA PROFESSIONAL GROUP:

Member employees who join a Professionals Group as a part of their membership benefits receive issue update alerts, events announcements, and analysis from the group's staff liaison on ABA's government relations team. Group Member involvement provides insights into the most pressing issues impacting their business and their role.

Professionals group events allow Members to connect with others in similar roles and to stay abreast of current issues.

Commodity and Agricultural Policy Professionals

As one of the top users of key ingredient commodities such as wheat and sugar, small shifts in markets can have huge financial impacts on ABA Members.

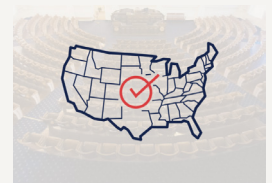

Energy and Environment Professionals

Recognized as leaders in energy reduction and environmental stewardship, ABA Members are dedicated to sustainability initiatives.

Human Resources and Safety Professionals

More than one million bakery supply chain employees work tirelessly and safely making and delivering the baked goods that feed the world.

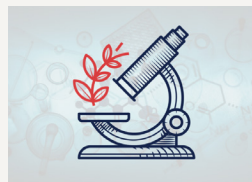

State Affairs Working Group

Wholesale bakers are found in all 50 states and in the District of Columbia. ABA's state affairs work is highly strategic, laser-focused, and immediately effective.

Legal Professionals

Baking industry legal professionals and those responsible for outside legal activities need the opportunity to discuss legal issues impacting the industry.

Food Technical Regulatory Affairs Professionals

The baking industry is committed to producing safe, nutritious (and delicious) baked products for America's families. Our industry strictly adheres to a set of processes to provide healthy and safe products, constantly improving food safety and nutrition practices.

Logistics Professionals

ABA Members and the baking supply chain have one of the largest trucking fleets in the country, constantly supplying America's families with baked goods.
